Troops from Italian Front Already Moving to Pacific

By J. EDWARD MURRAY

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

ROME, May 9.—(BUP)—

The Allies already have begun shipping combat and service troops from Italy directly to the Pacific for the war against Japan, Gen. Joseph T. McNarney revealed today.

McNarney, deputy supreme commander in the Mediterranean theatre, said other troops would be sent from Italy to the Pacific by way of the United States.

It generally was known that engineering and other technical troops, as well as certain medical personnel, had been embarking for the Pacific for several weeks, but McNarney's speech was the first confirmation that combat troops already were on the way.

McNarney's speech was broadcast throughout the Mediterranean theatre yesterday, but released for publication in the army newspaper Stars and Stripes and other news papers only today.

True Capitulation Is Made by Reich

Declares Stalin

LONDON, May 9.—(CP)—

Marshal Stalin in a personal broadcast to the Russian people tonight said Germany's final act of surrender in Berlin "is not only a piece of paper, but a true capitulation of Germany."

"Now we can say with full foundation that this is the day of complete victory," he declared over the Moscow radio.

"All the suffering and the trials of our people in the defence of our Motherland were in vain. Hitler declared three years ago. We shall destroy him."

"Now, three years later, Germany has been completely destroyed."

"Comrades, the great patriotic war has ended in the complete victory of our great Red army, which defended the independence of our Motherland," Marshal Stalin concluded.

St Says Here

by Bob Hope

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—The Russians brought a whole host of vodka and caviar with them to the San Francisco conference. From now on when I throw parties I'm going to invite only Russians.

The Scotch delegation was the same way—they brought along their own corkscrews. I don't know if certain people were interested in that, but as it entered San Francisco Bay it narrowly missed running into a ship loaded with W. C. Fields straight to the side of it.

But vodka is really a mild and drink. It's the kind of stuff you'd feed to your neighbor's babies. One guy dropped a bottle on the ground and it broke. I won't say that vodka is powerful, but an hour later they struck oil at 3,000 feet.

And one of those delegates probably used to be a bartender at the Moulin Rouge. He offered Stalin a drink and wanted the Hawaiian Islands in return. That caviar is really aristocratic stuff—I ate a sandwich of it and for the next three days my stomach wouldn't talk to the rest of my body.

Joint Staff Plans Invasion of Japan

By FRANK TREMAINE

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

GUAM, May 9.—(BUP)—The joint chiefs of staff now are working on plans for an invasion of Japan, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz disclosed today.

McNarney, deputy supreme commander in the Mediterranean theatre, said other troops would be sent from Italy to the Pacific by way of the United States.

It generally was known that engineering and other technical troops, as well as certain medical personnel, had been embarking for the Pacific for several weeks, but McNarney's speech was the first confirmation that combat troops already were on the way.

Return Control Liquor Prices To Provinces

OTTAWA, May 9.—(CP)—

Finance Minister Mackenzie King announced today that in view of recent changes in taxation and conditions of sale in certain provinces, the "complete control" of the price at which alcoholic beverages may be sold is being restored to the provinces.

The announcement said that the Prices Board has been instructed to exempt all sales of alcoholic beverages from the price ceiling.

EXTEND ACTION
This is an extension of action taken in April, 1942, when sales of alcoholic beverages, when made by provincial liquor control boards or similar government bodies, were exempted from price regulations.

At the time, the government was considering the lifting of other restrictions on the sale of wine and liquor in view of the cessation of hostilities.

At San Francisco last week Prime Minister Mackenzie King told interviewers that there might be an immediate relaxation of sale regulations with the end of the war if there were sufficient stocks of liquor.

War-time restrictions on the release of spirits and wine for sale became effective in 1942.

The government limited the sale of spirits to 100 bottles per person.

Russians and Nazis Said Still at Grips Outside Prague City

From CP, AP and BLP Dispatches

ADVANCED BATTLE HEADQUARTERS, AEF Germany, May 9.—Disarmed and dejected, but all expressing satisfaction that the war was over at long last, hundreds of thousands of Nazi soldiers were filling into Allied prisoner-of-war cages today.

Even the former awestruck elite SS troops of the Hitler Youth and Hermann Goering divisions were subdued, and many of them had torn the insignia from their uniforms in an effort to hide the fact that they belonged to those units.

On only one section of the front in Europe was action still reported today. German planes, co-operating with German ground forces, bombed Prague early today, and reports from that city say that Russians and Germans are still fighting outside the city.

Prague itself was captured by the Russians in a pre-dawn attack this morning. Tanks and infantry of the 1st Ukrainian Army under Marshal Ivan S. Konev broke through enemy lines outside the city and stormed into the streets to free the Czechoslovakian capital.

Street fighting developed, but aided by Czech partisans, the Red Army made short work of the Nazis who fled the city. The city was still being attacked by the Russians. It was after the city had been cleared of the Nazis that the plane bombing commenced.

The planes also bombed Prague, 25 miles east of Prague, and Melnik, 18 miles north.

service alike, have been detained in questioning.

Some of the rioting still puzzled most people, although some sailors admitted it was a "vague" protest demonstration for the war.

They said they and their families had been charged high rents for inadequate accommodations in this crowded city—accommodating 125,000 people.

Majority of the servicemen, predominantly sailors, were from all parts of Canada. And as any families or friends of servicemen know, in Halifax or being stationed there has always been one of their chief gripe.

This city during the war has accommodated thousands of sailors and other servicemen, and there were thousands on the streets Monday night and Tuesday, with nothing to do but celebrate.

Dozens of people were out by five o'clock, while a score of more were treated for gabbles in the arms and legs from marching through plate glass windows.

The celebration started Monday night, started off Tuesday morning, then broke out with renewed force in the afternoon, with a display of drunken smashing and looting.

Damage was run into hundreds of thousands of dollars, but no estimate is possible yet.

Most destruction in the worst sense by Halifax since the great explosion of 1917, when buildings were flattened and thousands of people were killed.

Buildings were flattened in the victory riot, but there is scarcely a window in the city's main business district, but no estimate is possible yet.

Thousands of dollars' worth of goods were looted in the stores, and virtually the entire liquor supply was carried out of the city's liquor stores.

Crowds ransacked the liquor stores, smashed into the windows, then started out on the biggest riot through the city ever has known.

Men and women by the scores poured through the city streets carrying cases of beer, cans of whiskey or rum, or else walked with hands full of bottles.

The parks were turned into beer gardens, and the streets and groups appeared on the grass with a lot of whiskey and beer.

Liquor was flung down around the city, and some of the rioting was done with arms full of bottles, or else going in with a lot of whiskey and beer.

Fuehrer Lied of War Hardships and Hitler Lived in Luxury in His Mountain Eagle's Nest

Excluded to The Edmonton Bulletin. HITLER'S JACK BELL, ATOP KEHLSTERN MOUNTAIN, MAY 9.—(UPI)—Adolf Hitler lived in his German people when he told them he was sharing the hardships of war.

For here, atop the mountain, Hitler lived in luxury as his Bavarian retreat, far too lavish for a man who pretended to be suffering from the hardships of war.

The one-time Nazi Fuehrer called this sumptuous hideout his eagle's nest. And it was an apt description of the place.

From the over-crowded windows in the huge salon are breathtaking views. On one side are snow-covered mountain peaks, sometimes shrouded in the sun, then wrapped in clouds of mist.

In the valley in the town of Berchtesgaden and the lush meadows of Hitler's more permanent residence.

On the opposite side of the valley tiny farms and grazing lands dot the slopes of majestic mountains. Beyond is the top of beautiful Lake Königssee.

Prime Urges Utmost Effort Against Japan

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—(CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King in a victory broadcast yesterday urged that Canada "make every effort to contribute to the final victory against Japan is achieved."

Mr. King, who spoke immediately after the broadcast of King George, expressed Canada's gratitude "for the deliverance from the evil forces of Nazi Germany." His message, carried on a CBC national network, was immediately repeated in French by Quebec Minister St. Laurent.

CONFIDENCE EXPRESSED

Expressing confidence in the success of the United Nations World Security Conference now in session at San Francisco, Mr. King said the delegates were seeking a more abundant life for the only memorial worthy of the service of the free nations in the present war.

"Let us rejoice in the victory for which we have waited so long and which has been won at so great a price," he said. "We are rejoicing, however, will fail to give expression to our true feelings if our first thoughts were not of those who have given their lives that victory, they thought, but we are not our own enemies."

"We would not be true to ourselves were we to think not of those who are suffering today for the loved ones taken from them in the terrible holocaust of war."

THINK OF MAIMED

"Our thoughts too, are of those who are wounded, of the maimed and disabled, of those who have not yet been released from prison camps. Our thoughts are of those who fight on in the area still being devastated by the ravages of war, and of those who suffer from the pain and want. We pray that aid and comfort may speedily be brought to all in distress."

While it was too soon to begin to estimate the heroic sacrifice of Canadian forces their contribution would forever make Canada their debtors.

"We shall now eagerly await the triumphant return of those who have fought, the fight, of freedom on the sea, on land and in the air, and who have survived the vicissitudes of war," he said. "What a welcome will be theirs. As long as they live their welfare should be our first concern. Especially must we look to the well-being of the dependents of those who never return. We must endeavor to see that no service and sacrifice is allowed to go unremembered."

UNBROKEN PARTNERSHIP

"Canada's great contribution to victory has been made possible by the unbroken partnership of her warriors and her workers. Supporting our armed forces, workers everywhere have done their part. In this hour of triumph over the evil forces of Nazi Germany, I would like all of you who have fulfilled the duties which it was yours to perform, to say in word, or prayer, or deed have striven to do your best: all of you who have aided by service in any form, to feel that you have helped to rid the world of a great scourge."

"For all time it will be yours to claim a share in the triumph of right, in the degree to which you have been faithful you are and are, are entitled to be numbered among the beneficiaries of mankind."

The part of countries invaded, occupied and oppressed which gave resistance without which Canada might have lost her freedom should be remembered in the hour of victory. In the liberated countries Canada had a duty to help relieve suffering and repair devastation.

NATIONS REJOICING

"The United Nations are rejoicing at the complete defeat of Germany, but the end of warfare in Europe is the end of the war," he continued. "There is yet another enemy. The United Nations have still to bring about the unconditional surrender of Japan. . . . There must be no pause until total victory has been achieved."

"... Finally we must fight to a victorious end the war against war itself. The hard struggle for peace will go on long after the guns cease firing. Until we win that struggle we cannot truly say that we have won the war. . . . In the great task, the United Nations conference will, I believe, succeed."

"In that success victory and peace will indeed crown the sacrifices of all who have fought the fight for freedom."

SUSIE Q. SMITH: "I'm sorry, Sluggo. . . I'm all booked up for the evening!"

Thousands in Red Square

Soviet Capital "Out to Last Man" In Great Celebration of Victory

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, May 8.—(AP)—Thousands of Russians swarmed through Red Square shouting "long live Stalin" and "hurrah for victory" as the Soviet capital turned out to the last man, woman and child today to celebrate the end of the war in Europe.

Amid the cheering, singing, throngs, soldiers dashed over the cobblestones with girls from the factories, which had shut down for the celebration.

Uri Levitan, a dark little man with a big voice, had given 190,000 Russians the news that the war against Germany had ended in a crushing victory for the Soviet Union and her Allies.

His immediate reaction to the stirring event was typically Slavic. "It was 11:00 a.m. when Levitan's first announcement for the Moscow radio—came on the air with the following words: 'The war is over! The war is over! The war is over!'"

Most of Moscow's residents were asleep, but the announcement acted like an alarm clock. Thousands poured into the streets, some still clad in pyjamas and nightgowns. Many wept openly, some fell on their knees in prayer. Everywhere people were shaking hands, embracing and kissing one another on tear-wet cheeks.

First To Draw Sword

"We were the first in this ancient land to draw the sword against tyranny (cheers). After a while we were left all alone against the tremendous military power that had been seen."

"There we stood alone. Did anybody want to give in?" "The crowd roared back a terrific 'No!'"

"Were we downhearted?" asked the premier. "No!" came back the answer. Mr. Churchill continued: "The British went out."

There was a great burst of laughter at this because the floodlighting of the balcony from which he was speaking had been turned off shortly before the appearance of the huns came down (loud boom) but every man, woman and child in this country had no thought of quitting the struggle. London can take it," (cheers).

Nazi Soldiers Freely Talked Army Matters

WASHINGTON, May 8.—(AP)—The United States Army disclosed yesterday that one of its most valuable weapons in Europe was the German soldier's inability to keep his mouth shut.

A war department authority said it now can be told that some of the Allies' most valuable information about the enemy was obtained from the German soldier.

From the North African invasion, American commanders were confident of the willingness of the German soldier to talk about his unit. The army source said in some cases the information was a vital factor in the operation immediately ahead.

The only reason we ever could figure out," this officer said, "was that the German for as long as he was not permitted to speak freely on any subject in his homeland that when he was captured he spoke out. Apparently that was one thing the German high command neglected in the so-called discipline of the German army."

The United States commanders were surprised that such an old soldier as Field Marshal Von Rundstedt would give any information.

Von Rundstedt, the officer said, told the Allied generals a great deal about the German army's anti-aircraft defense, which was being studied for future guidance. In the Field Marshal's case, however, the information had nothing to do with current military operations which were still under way when he was captured.

The Bulletin's SPORTS SHOW by Hal Dean

EDMONTON'S football season opened at Kingsway Park this morning at 7:15 o'clock, with Army and Navy Pats opposing Walk-Rites. Pats will be commencing the defence of their Alberta championship honors, they having won the provincial title in 1943. Both clubs are stronger than last year.

Last night's practice session which was held by Pats 140 over the full remaining roster, appears to indicate these clubs will be battling on even terms again this season. Mortons are the third team in the girls' senior circuit. Harry Scott, Calgary Albertin, says that Harry Orbert is now with Mottis, Alta. after having trained with Brooklyn Dodgers.

Orbert played with N. 3 Fliers, champions of the Football League in Calgary last summer and he was with the same club during '42. Orbert did perform a few times with Dodgers at Rentree Park here while on leave in '42, but prior to joining the RCAF was a member of the Trojans. Harry always has fiddled well in his second base position and can go down from first to second just as smoothly as the best, but he had difficulty getting to the hitting to approach the same high standard as the rest of his way. If Harry could improve his hitting—and presumably he'll be getting some coaching now—really good places in baseball.

Larry also complains there's a lack of information about the team and the plan and the lack of installing a loud-speaker.

Browns Defeat Senators

Indians End Losing Streak By Stopping White Sox 7-1

CHICAGO, May 9.—(AP)—Cleveland's last-place Indians scored their first American League victory in six starts over the pace-setting Chicago White Sox 7-1, behind the seventh-inning pitching of Charles (Red) Embree at Comiskey Park Tuesday.

A two-run homer by brawny Felix MacPherson in the sixth inning, Cleveland's first, struck the doubt of starter Orval Grove, who was touched for eight of 12 hits before he retired in the seventh.

Despite the setback, the White Sox failed to first place by a 25-point percentage margin over the old New York Yankees.

POTTER BULLS THREE-HITTER
ST. LOUIS, May 9.—(AP)—While not a home run, Potter's three-hitter led the American League champion St. Louis Browns to a 3-1 victory over the Senators in the first of a four-game series.

The Browns' clubbed former major league pitcher, Potter, for five hits including four for extra bases in the first three innings and scored six runs, eight in the final.

Potter, who hit the Senators' pitcher, Ted Clevinger, for a home run in the first, also hit a double in the third and a single in the fourth.

No Immediate Effect on Ball

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK, May 9.—(AP)—Surrender day means series this fall and may restate its all-star game but no great influx of returning soldier athletes is to be expected.

Of about 800 major leaguers now on the national defence service lists, a majority are believed overseas, many in the Pacific theatre.

War department estimates are that more than 12 months may be required to return the European armies to the United States, giving little hope for many famous names returning to the 1945 box seats.

After three weeks of play, both circuits appear to be in such delicate balance that re-appearance of a star player in the lineup of any team could make a pennant contender. The 1944 experience of Dick Wakefield and the Detroit Tigers was proof enough it could happen.

New York Giants and Chicago White Sox were the big surprises of the new season but the inter-sectional tests were just beginning.

"Boys will be boys" and in that process they often give their Bikes hard usage far beyond reasonable wear and tear.

They soon get to know where they can have their "Bikes" fixed, or obtain new long-wearing Dunlop tires and accessories and those all-important genuine C.C.M. spare parts. Invariably "that place" is at the sign of the C.C.M. dealer.

There are over 2,000 such dealers in Canada forged into a long chain of country-wide service for the convenience of C.C.M. Bicycle Riders. Remember these things when you go to select a bicycle—remember, too, that C.C.M. Bicycles have been made in Canada for over 45 years.

Bicycle rationing on a voluntary basis, as instituted by the bicycle dealers of Canada in co-operation with the manufacturers and the "W.T.P.B." (War-time Prices and Trade Board), is still in effect. If you need a bicycle, and qualify as an essential user, go to your C.C.M. dealer and fill in a Bicycle Purchase Application Form and he will supply you with a new C.C.M. from stock or within a reasonable time.

And should you ever need parts, service, Dunlop Tires or accessories, follow the lead of the boys—they know—and go to a C.C.M. dealer. Then you, too, can say "There's the Place I Get my Genuine C.C.M. Parts"—the store with the "C.C.M. Service" sign.

Infidelity of Wife Shocking to Husband

Husband Broken Up in Discovering Affair; Can Only Forgive as Many a Wife Has To Do

DEAR MISS DIX: Won't you please say a word to these young wives who are forever trying to separate their husbands from their mothers? So many wives, mind you, for instance, are always putting their husbands on the spot by their "fine first" demand. Husband knows their wives come first with out being constantly reminded of the fact.

It is natural for a man to want his wife to turn out as near like Mom as possible. Who else should he have as his ideal? Shouldn't a wife be glad to have the opportunity to learn from one so near to her husband's heart and one who is so willing to part with her hard-learned information? It all sounds very simple to me. Why, then, does it cause so much friction?

DISCOURAGED: The never-ending conflict between mother-in-law and daughter-in-law could be very simply settled, if both of them were unfeathered angels, or if even one of them were a Patient Griselda who was willing to efface herself and let the other monopolize the place that both love. Unfortunately, such is not the case. Both are human beings, and, worse still, they are female human beings, monopolistic and possessive by nature. Jealousy of their prerogatives and determined not to surrender a single one of them to the other woman.

There is no alien of whom a young wife is so jealous as when it is of her mother-in-law. She cannot bear to think that her husband loved his mother before he did her and that there are certain fond memories closer than there can ever be between him and her, and she is filled with suspicions of mother-in-law's every act and determined to separate him from her.

And only too often the mother-in-law is one of the passive women who can never give up her position and is an immaculate housekeeper. What can a good mother-in-law do? She has a good heart, but she is a good mother-in-law. She has a good heart, but she is a good mother-in-law. She has a good heart, but she is a good mother-in-law.

HEARTBROKEN HUSBAND: Answer: No one can answer this question for you. Many women forgive husbands who have been unfaithful to them and punish some sort of a reconciliation that leaves them all together. You have to be willing to take care of the little girl in yourself and make a woman of your own. The woman's way is the better.

As for expecting her to sit at your mother's feet and learn from her, that is an impossibility. Nobody can teach a bride anything. She knows all that mother-in-law should have enough position to realize this and keep her fingers out of daughter-in-law's

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDER
Washing and boiling the daily supply of formula bottles and equipment is indeed a tedious job and well for use to learn quickly to do this it may become automatic.

For so long as the baby continues to take milk by bottle, this job is a necessity. One cannot hope to have a formula and expect for any baby unless the milk itself is clean and fresh, the handling done with immaculate hands and the formula poured into bottles which are surgically clean. Bacteria have to make a life when they find themselves in dirty surroundings.

Each milk bottle, after use, should be rinsed well in cold water. Then once a day the day's supply of bottles should be washed vigorously in hot, soapy water with a bottle brush. Rinse bottles, but in a kettle of cold water and put in a sterilizer. Then take out the bottles and a sterilizing needle make a good thing of it. The needle should be a clean towel and cover with a clean towel and cover with a clean towel.

Minute Make-Ups
Increase finger beauty and lessen stocking snags. Brittle nails are a serious risk to the girl who is in the army of housewife's work. The beautiful story of Cinderella about Cinderella and her slipper has been the subject of an attack by several egyptologists who say that the word means a particular kind of valuable fur, such as miniver or weasel. Since it is only a story, we may leave the egyptologists to their learned scholars, while we go on enjoying the improved illustrations for our ardent graduation.

PRAYER FOR THIS DAY

make us worthy of this glorious Hour.
For Thine almighty Hand hath led us here
Through ghastly years that had all peoples cover,
To Have where all skies at last are clear,

Clear of those terrors long abroad by night,
Of battle, murder and of screaming death—
Into the Realm of Victory, Peace and Light
Where fear no longer clutches at our breath.

So grimly close all men of good will came
To sinking into slavery's dark abyss,
That well we know, only Thy pillared Flame
Brought us at last in safety over this.

Let us be humbly proud, and live to serve
What would have been their aims, who live no more;
Grant: From their last high purpose none shall evert,
Our deeds exalt their dream Peace held in store!

Grant that this Day we voice no empty boast,
But build the finer world which they began
On that Ideal our champions honored most,
The eternal Brotherhood of man to man.

Army Has Backlog 4,000 Casualties

OTTAWA, May 9.—(CP)—The end of the war in Europe yesterday brought the army with a backlog of 4,000 to 5,000 names of battle casualties in the evacuation branch and army officials said they might be working on them for weeks before they can be published as such.

Notification of these casualties have been notified and the big backlog awaiting action is the result from the security rule that a casualty must not be made public until 30 days after the action in which the soldier was involved.

With the war in Europe over, this security rule no longer applies and the names ought to be published any time, providing there is no objection to listing the soldier's name. It is hoped to begin the big job of checking them through the evacuation branch, and getting them in the newspapers.

Some officials here in the backlog listed within a week or so.
